GRADUATE RESIDENT
A part of the Division of Student Affairs, University Housing provides comfortable, affordable and secure on-campus housing options to more than 8,400 students in nine residential communities where their academic success and personal growth are encouraged and supported.

As part of that mission, housing assistantships prepare you for the future and provide you with valuable skills for your path to success—whether you plan on staying in student affairs or have another career path in mind.

You know you have greatness within you. And at the University of Georgia, you’ll join a community of thinkers, leaders and challengers who are determined to help society take its next step forward.

A graduate assistantship with University Housing will give you every opportunity to do more, achieve more and become more by developing strong personal and professional skills and offering real-world experience.

LINDA KASPER
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR
I am delighted that you are considering the University of Georgia for your next professional adventure. Our most valuable resource is our people, and one of the major reasons for job satisfaction in the department is the diversity and talent of our incredible staff, students and faculty.

READ MORE ONLINE: HOUSING.UGA.EDU

ELIGIBILITY
To be eligible for a University Housing graduate resident position, you must be enrolled in a master’s program at the University of Georgia and consent to a background check. Graduate and doctoral students who are interested in employment within University Housing should contact us at 706-542-6533 or housing@uga.edu

BENEFITS
- Tuition waiver (excludes student fees and parking)
- Stipend for the academic year
- Furnished, air-conditioned on-campus apartment (including utilities, cable, in-building laundry and Internet service)
- Housing meal plan
- Access to the University Health Center and Ramsey Center

WHY UNIVERSITY HOUSING?
A part of the Division of Student Affairs, University Housing provides comfortable, affordable and secure on-campus housing options to more than 8,400 students in nine residential communities where their academic success and personal growth are encouraged and supported.

As part of that mission, housing assistantships prepare you for the future and provide you with valuable skills for your path to success—whether you plan on staying in student affairs or have another career path in mind.

You know you have greatness within you. And at the University of Georgia, you’ll join a community of thinkers, leaders and challengers who are determined to help society take its next step forward.

A graduate assistantship with University Housing will give you every opportunity to do more, achieve more and become more by developing strong personal and professional skills and offering real-world experience.

GENERAL RESPONSIBILITIES
Work with other graduate students and University Housing staff members to develop a community that promotes personal growth and academic success.

Foster a supportive and challenging inclusive environment through intentional interactions and daily engagement with students and our staff team.

Lead and support students through the implementation of a residential curriculum model.

Participate in staff recruitment, selection and training.

Network with mentors and colleagues through Student Affairs Division events and conferences.

Specific responsibilities, in addition to information about requirements, can be found on our employment page at: http://bit.ly/UGAGR

1,505 average number of events and programs that take place in the residence halls each year
THE FIRST
The University of Georgia, a land–grant and sea–grant university is the state's oldest, most comprehensive, and most diversified institution of higher education. Its motto, “to teach, to serve, and to inquire into the nature of things,” reflects the University’s integral and unique role in the conservation and enhancement of the state’s and nation’s intellectual, cultural, and environmental heritage. Chartered on Jan. 27, 1785, the University of Georgia is America's first state-chartered university and the birthplace of the American system of public higher education.

96% of graduates are employed or continuing their education within six months of graduation

U.S. News & World Report 2020 ranking of best public national universities

18:1 student/faculty ratio

FOUR THINGS BULLDOGS DO

1 RING THE CHAPEL BELL. The Chapel bell can be heard throughout downtown Athens and North Campus. It originally tolled for class changes and other daily occurrences. Today, we ring the bell to mark athletic victories, personal accomplishments and other special occasions, such as weddings or passing that organic chemistry final exam.

2 GET OUTSIDE. The Firefly Trail begins downtown with a stunning 500'-long bridge over the North Oconee River. Hiking and mountain biking trails abound, and kayaking is a favorite local activity. When we’re feeling a little lazier, we lay out in the sand by the lake at Sandy Creek Park or explore the indoor rainforest at the State Botanical Garden of Georgia.

3 HANG OUT DOWNTOWN. Steps from North Campus, downtown Athens boasts dozens of local shops, restaurants, bars and music venues. Students and locals alike love strolling the streets, especially during one of Athens’ festivals or parades, which occur year-round.

4 CALL THE DAWGS. Calling the Dawgs is one of the ultimate traditions that unifies Bulldogs across the world. Here’s how you do it: Throw your arm up in a fist and wave it in a circle as you yell “Go”—and hold the “o.” Next bring down your arm in front of you as you yell “Dawgs” and chant “Sic ’em! Woof! Woof! Woof! Woof! Woof!”