INVESTING IN OUR FUTURE

GRADUATE MENTORING CERTIFICATE FOR FACULTY

The UGA Graduate Mentoring Certificate program launched in Spring 2025 as a way for UGA faculty to obtain training in a nationally recognized curriculum designed to promote effective graduate student mentoring.

This mentoring series gives faculty the tools to become more impactful mentors - fostering growth, independence, and success in their graduate students.

GRADUATE MENTORING TRAINING

Certified Mentor

"I learned so much, and I am eager to become a better mentor!"

"Really great opportunity that I will encourage my colleagues to participate in!"

GRADUATE EDUCATION ADVANCEMENT BOARD

The GEAB supports Graduate School initiatives to provide financial support, professional development, and networking opportunities to graduate students across disciplines.

Members participate in biannual board meetings and on-campus events featuring graduate students and alumni.

SUPPORTING STUDENT SUCCESS

The GradFIRST seminar series helps first year graduate students create supportive networks with peers and faculty while learning about expectations for graduate school.

STUDENTS ARE SAYING:

"I learned a lot about graduate school and research."

"The focus on communication and useful skills to graduate students was very helpful."

"The instructor was very engaging, and the class was very interactive. It also helped improve poster preparation and presentation skills."

INTRODUCING GRADUP: BLUEPRINT FOR GRADUATE SUCCESS

GradUP is a one-stop destination for navigating resources for both students and programs. The GradUP blueprint complements academic program offerings and connects graduate students to essential resources – from academic support to professional development and well-being, empowering the journey and unlocking potential at every stage. WHY GRADUATE EDUCATION AT UGA?

Jamie Jordan

Master’s student
Department of Geography
Franklin College of Arts and SciencesD

“There’s just a breadth of opportunity at this school, particularly that you can’t find at other schools, even within Georgia. As someone with wide-ranging interests this was a great place for me.”

ChaNae Bradley

Ph.D. student
Department of Workforce EducationD and Instructional TechnologyD
Mary Frances Early College of EducationD

“I started off taking classes at the Griffin campus, which was convenient for me. It just was a good opportunity for me--it was convenient, and it was flexible for my lifestyle because I work full time.”

Taylor Medlock-Lanier

Ph.D. student
Department of Cellular Biology
Franklin College of Arts and SciencesD

“UGA was my top choice--it was an umbrella program, so I could rotate in different departments and choose a lab based off of environment and fit and mentor.”

MESSAGE FROM DEAN WALCOTT

UGA’s graduate students are at the leading edge of critical breakthroughs in health and well-being, advancements in technology, and promoting a safe and secure nation and world. They are producing important works of art, bringing new dimensions to our understandings of classic literature, and ensuring we have a more complete and nuanced understanding of history. Joining them will help position you not only for a successful and satisfying career but also for impact in your local community or across the globe.
– Ron Walcott, Vice Provost for Graduate Education and Dean of the Graduate SchoolD
